I work as an administrative assistant in a school, these are some responsibilities and rules in my job:

I must arrive early every day.

I must not be late for work.

I have to organize documents and student records.

I don't have to work on Sundays.

I should help teachers and students when they need support.

I should not use my phone during office hours.

I have to answer emails and phone calls.

I must respect the school rules.

Now I want to talk about my academic life.

I study Analysis and Software Development at SENA.

I must submit my assignments on time.

I must not copy other students' work.

I have to attend virtual classes every week.

I don't have to go to a classroom because it is online.

I should practice programming every day.

I should not procrastinate my activities.

I have to read technical materials.

I should ask questions when I don't understand.
